

Remembering Rain

Jim Matheos

This diagram illustrates the fretboard positions for the song "Remembering Rain" by Jim Matheos. It is organized into 12 horizontal systems, each representing a measure of music. Each system consists of two staves: a top staff for the treble clef and a bottom staff for the bass clef. Fret numbers (0-12) are written above or below the staves to indicate fingerings. Chord positions are marked with black dots on the staves. Bar lines separate the measures. The diagram shows a progression of chords and fingerings across the fretboard, with some measures containing multiple bar lines or repeat signs. The final measure includes a trill (T) symbol above the treble staff.
